

Our valued Project Partners give significant contributions of time, expertise and materials towards our charity building projects that the Foundation supports so as to help desperate young people gain hope and better life choices.

These companies operate within the property and construction industry and include architectural and engineering firms, quantity surveyors, builders and construction companies, project managers, interior designers, service providers, suppliers. These organisations enjoy the comradeship and personal satisfaction when giving their time to help.

The Property Industry Foundation thanks these companies and individuals for their time and resources, on behalf of the charities and young people, who benefit from their generous contributions.

Blake Dawson

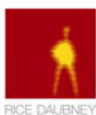

catyllis

cronepartners

Davis Langdon

RLB|Rider Levett Bucknall

Our valued Project Partners give significant contributions of time, expertise and materials towards our charity building projects that the Foundation supports so as to help desperate young people gain hope and better life choices.

These companies operate within the property and construction industry and include architectural and engineering firms, quantity surveyors, builders and construction companies, project managers, interior designers, service providers, suppliers. These organisations enjoy the comradeship and personal satisfaction when giving their time to help.

The Property Industry Foundation thanks these companies and individuals for their time and resources, on behalf of the charities and young people, who benefit from their generous contributions.

