

Press Clipping

The Australian Financial Review – 29 March, 2011

Property yachties raise $390,000

Greasy sailing conditions weren't necessarily the best on Sunday afternoon on Sydney Harbour, but the sailing was still extremely competitive in the Property Industry Foundation charity regatta. A mere two seconds separated winner Investec Bank aboard Investec Loyal from runners-up Thiess on Wild Oats X among the maxis in division one of the field. The second division, comprising smaller boats, was taken out by AMP Capital on Vamp. About $390,000 was raised for various charities on the day to support homeless person groups.

Victor Hoog Antink, the chief executive of Dexus Property Group and PIF's national chairman, Colliers International chief executive John Kenny and Mirvac boss Nick Collishaw were among the competitors.

Festivities lasted well into the evening with Angry Anderson joining musicians The Wolverines on stage.

PIF will hold its inaugural-Melbourne charity regatta on Friday at the Royal Brighton Yacht Club. About 20 yachts and 200 figures from the property industry will take part.